lieve that even the most radical party that can get control of the Federal gov-ernment will be so hampered by the ne-cessity of raising revenue to operate the government that nothing radical can be done in the line of tariff reforms. Business took a decided brace on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday, more securities having been sold than in any one day for many weeks. The fact may be attributed to the general quietling down of excitement over the any nouncement of the plans of the Maryland-Virginia Railway Company. So far as the stock exchange is concerned, it has been decided that local securities are not to be harmed at present, and trade is settling down into normal channels.

Stocks a Little Lower.

Stocks seld more freely than for some weeks, but the prices were generally lower. Capital Traction was bought at 18%. Ball was common sold at 30% and 51, while the preferred brought 20%, one sale going to 20%. After call Capital Traction was down to 124 on fractional lots. Eastern Laght and Foel was bid in at 122 and Citizens Savings Bank at 22. After call this stock sold in a small bot at 21.

There was some call for Gas, and the bid price was advanced in the hope of setting it, but without result. Gossip on the exchange was to the effect that Joseph Leiter, president of the company, was dring of his job and would not serve after the close of the year, which serve after the close of the year, which serve after the close of the year, which the curious ones said that Howard Reeside would succeed Mr. Leiter as head of the company.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Washington Refining Company, held in Alexandria, the following officers and directors were electric J. J. Cooper, president; J. S. Jackson, vice president; W. C. Craig, accretary; W. J. Cooper, treasurer. These, with Fred S. Swindell, constitute the board of directors.

This company recently purchased the plant of the Columbia Cotton Oil and Provision Company at Relee, Va., and its expected will resume operations with larger capital and under new management.

Brightwood Bailway Bonds Paid. Brightwood Railway Bonds Fald.
Payment of the bonds of the Brightwood Ballway, Issued twenty years ago, was begun yeaterday at the office of the Central Trust Company of New York.
This issue of bonds was 130,000 and were for the most part held by out-of-town capitalists. Their pownent was provided for some time ago through the Washington Ballway and Electric Company, which absorbed the property many years ago.

which absorbed the property many years ago.

The bonds drew 6 per cent interest and were regarded as gilt-edged. They were sobbled up long ago by investors in Eastern cities who had few opportunities to insure so large interest on their surrius money. These bonds were not listed on the local exchange, and problemly very few, if any, were held in Washington.
